SON FOLLOWS FATHER'S HOBBY AS RADIO 'HAM'

Like father, like son.
Jerry Greenfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greenfield, 1457 Verbena drive, has acquired the same hobby which once held the attention of his father—ham radio.

Stories of experiences with ham radio as told by his father led to Jerry becoming interested in having his own set, and trying it himself. This was about 18 months ago, and since that time Jerry has acquired a Hallicarrier receiver and has been studying for his novice transmitter's license.

A junior in high school, the youth plans to take his transmitter's test next winter or in the spring of 1956.
Jerry has picked up stations from throughout the world, including Moscow, Belgium, London, Mexico, Ecuador, Japan, Puerto Rico, Australia and Canada.

He has sent acknowledging cards to various stations, and in return received replies from most places. A personal letter came from Radio Moscow, dated May 18, 1955, which verified his listening report and enclosed a copy of the summer broadcasting schedule beamed to North America. It also wished the youth "good listening," and said that the station would appreciate "any future remarks about reception you may have."

A change has been noted by Jerry concerning the tenor of the Moscow radio broadcasts, with a more friendly atmosphere prevailing concerning relations with the United States.

A favorite program is an Australian disc jockey show, which features requests from throughout the world.
Best reception comes around midnight and after, Jerry said. The youth and his parents are now in Hawaii on a 2-day vacation and Jerry no doubt is contacting ham operators there in preparation for the time when he can make actual radio contact with them.

Personnel Survey to Start Sept. 6

Requested survey of city personnel rules and procedures will be started by the State Personnel Board Tuesday, September 6, with Robert Montilla conducting three explanatory sessions that day for all city employees.

At the sessions, the survey and its aims will be described to all personnel, and questionnaires will be distributed, according to City Manager R. W. Peterson.

Department heads are asked to have all persons in their department attend one of the sessions.

Rip Snortin' Has Wonderful Idea to Aid Traffic Safety

By DON KLOTZBUECHER

Harry Oliver is an impatient man.
Especially when it applies to a new idea he has just dreamed, or one which he has stolen from someone else — and when it will benefit all mankind.

The publisher of The Desert Rat Scrap Book rushed into The Desert Sun this week.
"Old Rip Snortin' has a wonderful idea to promote traffic safety," was his opening remark, and then he added, "it just can't wait until my next edition three months or so from now."

"It'll save millions of lives," he continued.
Calming down upon assurance that it would be published for the benefit of all mankind, he then admitted that the basic idea was stolen from Fred Beck's, "Second Carrot from the End," Beck, TV, radio and newspaper columnist, says that he knows how to drink properly: "Just swaller her down until it's time to go home and then don't go home."

"Old Rip Snortin' picked up this idea right away," Harry said. "Why, because he can now have a few more drinks and still carry on his new crusade for greater highway safety."
Desert Rat Scrap Book readers will remember some of Rip's more noted comments in the past: "The trouble with whiskey is that you take a drink and it makes a new man of you. Then he has to have a

Now Rip has come up with a new classic: "For added safety remember you can't fall out of bed if you sleep on the floor."

Plans Progressing for Bond Issue to Build Addition

Net loss of Desert Hospital District during the past year was reduced more than $20,000 from figures of the previous year, directors reported this week.

Financial report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955, showed a net loss of $8,054.04, as compared with the previous year's operation which showed a net loss of $28,148.19.

The summary for the past fiscal year does not include the auditor's final report, which may alter the figure slightly.

The directors expressed enthusiasm about the financial showing of the district, and added that they believe that the coming fiscal year should show a further reduction in the operating costs of the hospital.

"THIS ACCOMPLISHMENT on the part of the hospital has been made possible by the splendid support of the Desert Hospital District and the efficient management of the hospital," the directors said.
Robert Henwood is administrator of the hospital.

THE MAINTENANCE AND operation tax rate for the current fiscal year has not been received from the county auditor, but it is expected that it will be six or seven cents, as compared with last year's rate of approximately 11.3 cents, and the original tax levy of 21 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Plans for expansion of hospital facilities through a $250,000 bond issue in November are now being formulated.

THE PROPOSED bond issue which will be presented to the voters would provide an additional 20 beds and other facilities to the present unit which has 38 beds and six bassinets.
Judging from overcrowding of hospital facilities during the past winter and spring seasons, and the rapid growth of the desert area, it is believed that the additional 20 beds will soon be utilized.

Second Teen Age Dance Successful

Second Teen Age dance of the Summer season at Youth Center Saturday night attracted a gathering of 105 and was another fine success, Ralph Watt, acting director of the Center and Howard Haddock, city recreation director, reported.

Public Asked to Aid Board in Naming Section 19 School

Assistance in naming the new school to be constructed on Section 19, was requested this week by the board of education, Palm Springs Unified School district.

All residents in the district are asked to participate in the naming, using the coupon appearing below. If they wish, they may attach their reasons for the name submitted.

The coupon appears below, with persons asked to type or print their suggestions:

THOUSAND PALMS WINS FIGHT TO KEEP SCHOOL

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Reluctantly (but without a dissenting vote) agreeing to continue the operation of the Thousand Palms school, the board of education of the Palm Springs Unified School district Thursday resolved the hot issue which had brought waves of protests from Thousand Palms residents. There were three "yes" votes, with Haig Harris not present and Board President Ray Sorum not voting on issues unless there is a tie.

Some 30 persons, representing residents, parents and business people listened quietly as Frank Muller moved that the school be continued.

HELEN STALEY turned to the people of Thousand Palms, and said, "I am going to vote in favor of the motion, but I'm not at all convinced that I am doing the best thing for your children. I would like to add too, that you folks feel free to come in and see our schools here."

And with this, Dr. Hugh Stephens seconded the motion and said he was "in complete agreement" with Dr. Wallace R. Muellder's recommendation, and "it always pains me to go against a recommendation of the superintendent." "I do be-

Flood Control Tax Rate Set at 15.3 Cents

Tax rate for Zone 6, Riverside County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, was set by county supervisors Friday at 15.3 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up one-tenth of a cent from the 1954-55 fiscal year rate.

Of the rate amount, 13.3 cents is for flood control work and two cents is for administrative purposes for the entire county district, each of the seven zones contributing that amount.

The budget for Zone 6 is Right-of-Way Acquisition is Started

Only Delay May be Caused by Voting of Funds

California Division of Highways is going ahead with the Indian avenue overpass of Highway 60-70-99 as soon as funds have been allocated by the Highway Commission.

This word was received here this week by Jimmy Cooper, manager of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

THE LOCAL CHAMBER, Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce, City of Palm Springs and the Palm Springs Unified School District have all gone on record in favor of the project, and have requested that action be expedited.

Official word of action being taken was received from Spencer Nordyke, district administrative assistant, acting on behalf of C. V. Kane, district engineer for Division of Highways.

NORDYKE REPORTED that "we are at the present time in the process of acquiring the necessary rights-of-way to construct the Indian avenue overpass of Highway 60-70-99 in the vicinity of Garnet."
Design of the structure is being worked on, he continued, with construction to take place "as soon as funds are made available by the California Highway Commission."

SAFETY FOR MOTORISTS, especially with increased travel between Desert Hot Springs and Palm Springs, was cited in the resolutions adopted by the various civic groups.

Hope was also expressed that the overpass might be constructed at the same time as other improvement planned for the highway, but it is not known if this is possible. Highway commissioners have given no indication as to whether an emergency grant of funds might be made for the project, or if it would have to wait until the next fiscal year.

Hikers Troubled by Desert Heat

A hiking party from the Twentynine Palms Marine Center found the heat in Tahquitz canyon greater than on the desert floor but all came out of the mountains safely just as police started a search for them.

Jim Morris, 18, one of the three Marines hiking in the canyon, was overcome by the heat and exertion but was brought out by another Marine and an unidentified Village girl who had accompanied him on the hike.

Two other Marines, reported possibly lost in the area, came out under their own power before rescuers reached them.

FIRE THURSDAY NOON completely destroyed a small cottage, used as a storage place, at the Amy Phillips estate at 796 Via Miraleste. The fire was discovered by Walter Fredler, caretaker of the estate. Fire Chief William Leonese said the probable cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion, started as a result of storage of paints in the building. Among items destroyed in the fire were a power mower and furniture.

UNEDITED

By BILL RASHALL

I've had it!
Every bit of it and more.
Have asked myself at least three times a day this question:

Why did I leave COOL Palm Springs? Never again will I say unto myself that August is the worst month on the desert from a standpoint of heat. It certainly isn't as bad and as intolerable as it was in Minneapolis and now here in Chicago. One does not have to undress for a bath in the weather we are enjoying here.
Just move your arms quite lazily and presto! You are swimming in perspiration.

NOTES THAT I have jotted down here, here and across the country: Amazed at the amount of advertising and publicity Miami, Florida is doing, calling that humid resort on the Florida coast—hold on now—a place where one can enjoy an exciting summer.

I have seen publicity pictures and stories about Miami and its summer promotion as far West as Idaho Falls, in Minneapolis and here in Chicago.

Such promotion takes concerted effort on the part of everyone in a community. The hotels should not be asked to carry the entire burden of financing such a program in my humble opinion. When there are guests at our hotels merchants profit also. Remember there were more hotels open this Summer than ever before in the history of Palm Springs. Banded together with a definite project in mind regarding promotion and publicity, and handled through the fountain head of the Chamber of Commerce, Palm Springs could go a long way toward that dreamy target of making this resort community an all year resort.

To Al Laurye of The Steak
Ranch: An old friend of yours, George Diamond, is going into business in Palm Springs when the new season rolls around.
He plans to erect at the corner of Indian Avenue and Esquela a thirty unit hotel which will also boast of a restaurant to cater, he said, "exclusively to the guests of his hostelry." He plans to call it "George Diamond's Palm Springs hotel."

"It's just going to be a fun place for me during the winter months when I want to escape from the snow and ice of Chicago," declared Diamond. "I do not expect to make any money out there (Palm Springs)," he said.

NOTE TO CHARLES Farrell
and Sherman Hull:
You two may or may not know that Bill Molin, who with his family, guested at the club for several seasons prior to the last one, is not with us any more. Called for him on the telephone in Minneapolis only to be informed that he had died May 16. Just prior to his death, say a short two or three months, received a letter from this fine gentleman urging me

Board Declines to Take Action on Move Request

Board of Education of Palm Springs Unified school district last week declined to act on the request of a Village couple that their child be transferred from Francis Stevens school to Cahuilla school because "she was the only white child in the room."

The request was made in a letter to the board by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Woods, 871 East Arenas road.

The board's refusal to act was based on the opinion that such a move would be unconstitutional.

to do with his decision to re-

Jim Vander Veer just strolled rid of you in Palm Springs," he of interest to Connie King and um-n months ago that dress had a direct bearing on juvenile delinquency—or rather the lack of proper dress did.

Here is what the item says and it supports the stand taken in this column:
"Last year the production of blue jeans slumped 16 per cent.
Twelve of the nation's leading manufacturers of denim believe that the public find a relationship between the wearing of blue jeans to school and at play with juvenile delinquency. This Denim Council composed of the above mentioned manufacturers have launched a public relations campaign aimed at recorting the lost 16 percent in the profit column. The slogan in this campaign will be "Mode

ing Denims."

I WANT TO BE shackled to

I've had all the vacation I want in this part of the nation, believe you me!

COMING SUNDAY to the CinemaScope screen at Village Theater is "Mr. Roberts," the famed stage play hit filmed in Warner-color, starring, left to right, Jack Lemmon, James Cagney, Henry Fonda, and William Powell. Fonda is starred as Mr. Roberts, with Cagney as the captain, Powell as "Doc" and Lemmon as the romantic Ensign Pulver.

Board to Decide Cabazon Future in Coming Week

The two-to-two deadlock which has held up decisions on the proposal to incorporate Cabazon before supervisors for six weeks is expected to be broken next week.

Monday, supervisors were still divided among the four supervisors present and they agreed that until the return of the fifth board member, Chairman William Jones, now on vacation, no decision can be reached. Jones is expected back this weekend from an Alaskan vacation.

DISPUTE OVER population figures has held up the final verdict on the incorporation plan. Proponents say the community has 540 residents, more than the required 500, while opponents say the total is less than 450.

Involved in the debate is the question of draw poker for the community if it is incorporated and also the possibility of construction of a cement mill by the same group which sought to build one near the Southern

Grand Jury Foreman Asks Supervisors for Sales Tax

Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, foreman of the 1955 Riverside county Grand Jury, Monday recommended to county supervisors that they enact a one per cent county sales tax which would yield approximately $500,000 in added revenue.

The proposal has been under consideration of the supervisors, with no action having been taken. Dr. Goldberg urged the supervisors to expedite the measure.

In the prepared statement which he read to the county governing body, the foreman said that 65 percent of the "taxpaying public in Riverside county pay virtually no taxes."

HE ELABORATED on this point, saying that of 155,000 taxpayers in the county in the Pacific depot here.

IN THE MEANTIME, Jerry Kosoff, representing a group planning to develop a resort at Cabazon if it becomes a city, charged that opponents of incorporation had misrepresented the facts.

His clients only want to pay their fair share of municipal expenses if the town incorporates and not, as opponents claim, try to "buy the city."

past fiscal year, 1955, 95,382 paid only 1.47 percent of the total taxes on real property.

Riverside county has been settled by middle-aged and elderly people, mostly health-seekers with little money, Dr.
Goldberg continued. "This may be exemplified in the fact that in this last fiscal year of a total budget of $18,852,785, $10-508,634 or 55.75 percent of this budget was used for welfare work and other charities."

ADDITIONAL FUNDS are needed to provide increases in salaries and for capital expenditures in enlarged offices and equipment, which have been requested by various departments of county government and which are greatly needed, he said.

Raising of the tax rate is not the answer, he added, as 65 percent of the taxpayers would not be involved because "their increase would not be consequential."

HE COMMENDED the supervisors for being cautious about raising the tax rate in the past, and pointed out that the preliminary budget this year calls for a decrease in the rate by almost one cent, to 1.7444.

In calling for a sales tax, he said that it would be "the only way this group (the 65 percent which pay 1.47 percent of the taxes can make even their little contribution to operation and maintenance" of county government and services.

"REALIZING THAT these people are very limited in their total savings and in their income, yet, as good citizens, they should participate at least partially in the tax burden which makes available all of the government services to them," Dr. Goldberg commented.

The Grand Jury foreman also called for an increase in the general reserve fund to a point where it is adequate to carry over the interval between the closure of books of the fiscal year and the receipt of funds from the next tax roll. The fund of $600,000 is now inadequate for this purpose, he said.

As Big As the Play

Carnation Corner

Carnation Fresh Peach Ice Cream is one of the real treats of this delightful summer! If you've already tasted Carnation Fresh Peach Ice Cream this season, how well you know what I mean. How you enjoyed the delicate flavor of choice fresh peaches, picked and fresh-frozen at the height of their goodness. And how glad you were that Carnation used so many peaches making Fresh Peach Ice Cream!

If you haven't tasted Carnation Fresh Peach Ice Cream this summer - you certainly have a lovely treat in store. (It's the Carnation Treat-of-the-Month, and it's at your favorite store right now!)

Here's a brand-new party dessert your guests will love:

"PEACHY KEEN" PIE
(makes 9" pie)

16 marshmallows
1 tablespoon peach juice
2 egg whites
1/4 cup sugar
1 pint Carnation Fresh Peach Ice Cream
3/4 cup sliced fresh peaches
9 single crust baked pie shell

Melt marshmallows and peach juice in top of double boiler over hot water. Remove from heat; cool to lukewarm. Beat egg whites until frothy, gradually add sugar, while continuing to beat until meringue is stiff. Fold marshmallow and meringue mixture together. Spoon ice cream into cooled pie shell; top with peaches. Pile meringue lightly on pie; seal edges to edge of pie crust. Brown pie under broiler about 1/2 minute. Serve immediately.

"IT'S TIME FOR YOUR BATH!"

When Venetian blinds need a thorough washing, here's one way to do it: Run some lukewarm water into your bathtub and mix in a little detergent. Put the blind in the tub and let it soak for a few minutes. Sponge off stubborn dirt marks. To rinse, simply turn on the tub's shower attachment, or use a rubber spray connected to the faucet.

Five o'clock, and no dessert for dinner? Quick - phone hubby and ask him to pick up some Carnation Fresh Peach Ice Cream on his way home!

WASTE NOT WANT NOT

If you make Peachy Keen Pie, here's a good way to save the egg yolks. Place in a slim fruit-jar glass and cover with cooking oil. Keep chilled - they'll stay fresh for days!

(I shouldn't say if you make Peachy Keen pie - I should say when. For I just know you'll be trying it real soon... while glorious Fresh Peach Ice Cream is still Carnation's Treat-of-the-Month!)

Major project in Zone 6 naturally is Palm Canyon, for which $45,000 will be expended. Cathedral Canyon was allotted $12,500; engineering and surveys $18,500 including an aerial survey for $12,000.

City Commended for Regulation

City council last week received a letter of recommendation concerning its recently enacted and slightly controversial hotel rate sign ordinance.

The commendation came from John Munholland, who by letter told council that he thoroughly approved of the action, and that he would comply in every respect.

He added that he would like to compliment the councilmen who have given so much of their time in the best interest of the city.

Meanwhile, James Carlin, defendant in the current suit to abate a sign on his hotel, and his attorneys were granted an additional two weeks by Judge Eugene Theriault in which to file an answer to the city's complaint.

in the area, and that they believed their children got along better in the one-classroom school than they could in a larger plant.

ONE MAN, an ex-school bus driver, pointed out to the board that he found that it was difficult to put a large number of children of different grades in the same bus and transport them a long way, and added that his son had attended the Thousand Palms school and had gotten along very good, but when he transferred to another school in the district, his school work dropped off.

Letters and telephone calls flooded the school office the day and week before the meeting.

Benjamin Wollman, Joseph and Melborn Vessels and Grace Gillum were among those who wrote the board to protest the abandonment of the school. All letters were not from persons wanting to keep the school however; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams of that area could not be present at the meeting and said that they "were definitely in favor of sending their children to a larger school."

THINKING OF THE $20,000 allocated for a school site from monies voted in the bond election in February, some correspondents said that they wanted to see the school continued until a new school was started.

Cost of the school was described by proponents as being minor, and Mrs. Staley said that the board was not considering the cost angle, but was interested in seeing that every child received a good education. The question was asked for, and debate came to an end. The continuance of the school was approved.

DR. MUELDNER in reply to the people of Thousand Palms following the reluctant approval by the trustees to retain the school, said, in part:

"Under the circumstances I guess I should disqualify myself for lack of experience in dealing with the Thousand Palms schools; at least that is the assertion of some present tonight. I find relatively little which is unique about Thousand Palms Schools except that it is located at Thousand Palms. It doesn't take 'a long time' to categorize the type of education at the school. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the evidence which has been used in debating this issue here is in serious conflict with educators who have given literally their lives to the study of education, and who point out emphatically—and which has been exhibited here—that the methods of modern education which are available do not justify the existence of isolated multigraded one-room schools.

"I HAVE KNOWLEDGE which is certainly not unique, but I do say that when we argue a point as to whether or not a school should operate we want to be sure that arguments are based on fact and not on emotion—based on the welfare of people of the Palm Springs school district, the State of California, and of the United States and not upon personal considerations."

If we reach a point of growth which many of the people here think we will, especially this coming year, I am sure that the load that the teacher there will have to carry will be far in excess of that expected and for which she will be compensated.

"I am of the opinion that if we continue the operation of the Thousand Palms School that I will constantly urge this board to reduce the load of that teacher to the point that it is a reasonable amount necessary to give the youngster there a fighting chance. If the mere existence of the school seems to be pre-eminent, that can also be arranged."

Citizens' Safety Record Brings A.A.A. Award

"For its outstanding record of no Pedestrian Deaths" during 1954, Palm Springs will be honored by the Automobile Club of Southern California August 24 in ceremonies at police headquarters, it was announced today.

William H. Skellett, Auto Club district manager of the Indio office, will present a plaque to the city for its record as reported in the annual AAA National Pedestrian Protection Contest.

Police Chief August G. Kettman will accept the presentation.

Palm Springs is one of only six Southern cities to be honored for this distinguished traffic record, the Club said.

Desert area residents have consistently maintained that by population, assessment and taxes, they were not receiving equal representation with other districts.

In an effort to improve the situation, citizens of the various desert communities started action for Desert County, with this plan also being held in abeyance until it is seen what the charter movement will produce.

Tichenor Hurls Hot Springs Win Over Marines

Desert Hot Springs remained in contention for the Desert Softball League title Wednesday evening with a 1 to 0, extra inning, defeat of the league leading Twentynine Palms Marines.

Steve Mintzer scored the winning run in the eighth. He doubled and then came home when Claude Thaxter threw wild to second base in an effort to pick him off the bag. Bill Tichenor and Johnny Green engaged in a pitching duel up to that time, with the former allowing only three hits and striking out 21 batters, while Green gave up five safe blows.

The line score:

Dove Hunting Season Opens Here Sept. 3

A straight 30-day dove hunting season from September 3 through October 2 has been approved for California by the State Fish and Game Commission. The daily bag and possession limit will be 10 doves in the aggregate of all species. White-winged doves may be taken only in Riverside and Imperial Counties.

Shooting hours throughout the season will be from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Major changes from the 1954 regulations are the adoption of the straight instead of split season, and the elimination of the noon opening. This year's dove season will begin on a Saturday rather than the traditional September 1 date.

Farmers Fair at Hemet Has Attractions for All

The best offered anywhere—the most to see and the most to do, for grownups and youngsters alike—has been the planning for the 1955 Farmer's Fair of Riverside county, August 17 through 21, at the Hemet Fairgrounds.

Bigger exhibits and entertainment—more color and fun—are offered visitors to the five-day festival, which last year drew more than 35,000 persons to the air-conditioned buildings and grass covered grounds of the Hemet event.

HEAVY VOLUME of entries in every department this year promises a record breaking attendance again, according to the Forty-sixth District Agriculture Association, sponsors of the fair, and Fair Manager Harry Hoffmann.

The Farmers' Fair, which traditionally has been an exposition of the best in family living, also features tops in entertainment.

AN ICE-SHOW extravaganza, the first to be presented in Riverside county, heads the list of new entertainment attractions. Starring the Southland's top figures in the ice-skating world, the "Frosty Toy Circus" is being staged the first three days of the fair in evening performances.

DAILY THROUGHOUT the fair is featured the popular Farmer's Daughter contests, in which the five lovely candidates from throughout the county will match skills in cow milking, biscuit baking, patching and tractor driving.

Highlight of this year's Junior Fair will be the fat stock sale on Saturday night, August 20. It's expected to draw more sellers, buyers, and spectators than ever before. Only

The Marines turned their two hits into two runs to maintain their lead in the league.

Johnny Green of the victors was touched for only four hits but kept them well scattered. In the sixth inning, the Colony filled the bases and an upset was in the making, but Green pulled himself out of the jam by retiring the next batter.

BETTY LOUISE WRIGHT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wright of 425 West Stevens road, and William Alexander Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence of Los Angeles, were married Saturday, August 13, at St. Alban's Episcopal church. A reception was held at the Bel-Air hotel. The couple will reside in Santa Monica.

Betty Louise Wright Weds William Alexander Lawrence

Betty Louise Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wright of Palm Springs, and William Alexander Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence of Los Angeles, exchanged wedding vows in a 7:30 p. m. ceremony at St. Alban's Episcopal church in Westwood on Saturday. The Rev. Caldwell officiated.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Bel-Air Hotel. The bride was attired in a Chantilly lace gown, designed in robe de style fashion, with tight fitted bodice and extremely full skirt descending into long, graceful train. The scoop neck of the bodice was trimmed with appliqued lace roses embroidered in pearls. A French tulle elbow length veil fell from a coronet of matching lace exquisitely embroidered in pearls, and long lace gloves completed the costume. Her flowers consisted of butterfly orchids and stephanotis in cascade.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Earl Galpin, and bridesmaids were Joan Ockerman, Mrs. Harry Hanbury and Mrs. Dana Orwick. Harry Hanbury was best man, and ushers were Robert Bell, Thomas Griffith and Morris Sale.

The bridesmaids' gowns were waltz length dresses of periwinkle blue crystalettes over bouffant crinolines. They had matching short net veils, and their flowers were pink cascades of anthurium.

The bride's mother wore a taupe shirred chiffon dress, and had champagne gloves and a small cocktail hat. The groom's mother wore an ice blue satin dress, with matching accessories.

Special decorations in the church consisted of pink and white carnations, stock and gladioli.

The bride attended Palm Springs High school and received a Bachelor of Education degree from the University of California at Los Angeles. She was a member of Kappa Delta Sor.

The groom attended Palm Springs High school. He served two years with the United States Air Force, and is now with the Atomic Energy Commission.

The couple will reside in Santa Monica.

Youngs Take Western Air to Minnesota

Ernie and Bernie Young (of El Mirador Hotel) took the desert and its fun to Hibbing, Minnesota for the first time recently when they hosted a Western Party and a Luau, both at the Mesaba Country Club.

They even added a Palm Springs atmosphere to both parties with the Village's Tex Kidwell being the entertainer at the Western party and with a palm tree among the decorations at the Luau.

About 100 guests were present at the Western Party and it was acclaimed by all present. Among the guests were Bob Bonesteel frequent visitor here, and Dick VanderVeer of El Mirador.

Western decorations featured the club house, and guests were attired in their "gayest shirt or wildest skirt."

Nancy Hood Weds Lt. E. W. Golden

Nancy Doyle Hood of Los Altos, daughter of Charles Doyle, longtime desert resident, was wed recently to Lt. (j.g.) Edward Warren Golden in a ceremony in the gardens of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Golden, in Atherton.

The Rev. Doun Emerson Hall of Menlo Park's Presbyterian church officiated at the ceremony which took place beneath a large oak tree which was decorated with pink and white begonias and ivy. Fern decorated the improvised altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white handkerchief linen and lace dress fashioned with bouffant skirt and scoop neckline. Her cap was of Belgium lace and she carried a pink parasol and spray of pink phalaenopsis.

Dikys Jones of New York was her only attendant, and Dr. Ralph Sands of San Francisco was best man.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, and are making their home at Los Altos, where he is stationed at Moffett Field.

The bride is a graduate of Occidental college. The groom is an alumnus of San Mateo high school, Dartmouth and the Harvard School of Business.

Redlands Bowl to Reach Season's Climax This Week

The Redlands Bowl season reaches a climax this week with the four final programs each representing a highlight of the season in its own way.

The program on Friday evening, August 19, will feature the San Francisco Operatic Quartet, under the direction of Nino Comel. The program will spotlight solo and ensemble selections from the operatic literature of the past three hundred years.

Composed of four outstanding voices, this concert will be unique in that the customary printed program will not be handed to the audience until the latter part of the concert. Instead Maestro Comel will take the audience through the world of opera of the last three centuries on a musical journey that of the operatic literature.

Joseph Schuster, cellist, will be the headline attraction on the Tuesday program, August 23. There are few instrumentalists who can boast the following of Schuster both with criticism and audiences alike. Since 1949 he has made annual European tours, being constantly re-engaged to play in the major centers and with leading orchestras. In his Redlands Bowl program his assisting artists will be Dorothy Ledger, young California mezzo-soprano, and Jack Crosson, brilliant pianist.

Friday evening, August 26, will be "Industry Night" at the Bowl, and the largest crowd of the season is expected to see a full scale professional production of "Madame Butterfly," staged by Glynn Ross, and conducted by James K. Guthrie. Burl Dean Smith, nationally known tenor, will play the role of Lieut. B. F. Pinkerton.

The closing program at the Bowl, Tuesday, August 30, will present the brilliant San Francisco dance troupe, "Ballet Celeste," under the direction of Merriem Lanova, former MGM star and soloist with the Ballet International.

There is no admission charge for any of these events and program time is 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Hunter's Comparison of England in 1953 with 1955

(Editor's Note: The Rev. Graham Hunter, pastor of the Cathedral Community Church, reports on his current trip to Europe. This is the third in a series of accounts of their travels by Village area residents.)

The crowd which gathers around the soap-box speakers at Hyde Park by the Marble Arch in London on Sunday afternoons and evenings is bigger than ever. The speakers and the hecklers cover every imaginable subject and their vocal sounds, which tell where they come from or where they were brought up, are quite varied.

The communists, who used to be highly vocal, seem to have disappeared and there is a far greater interest in religion. The political queer ones and the religious cranks still conduct their question-and-answer discussions, but the big clusters of people are around the speakers from the old-line churches, Anglican, Presbyterian, Salvation Army, Roman Catholics and especially Methodists.

THE REV. DONALD SOPER of Kingsway Hall (Methodist) drew a crowd to the limit of the sound of his voice and his hearers, the majority of them, seemed to be for him, even though it was sometimes hard to tell where ecclesiastical affairs ended and politics began. Dr. Soper has a keen sense of humor and gave his message partly by his facial expressions. He was able adroitly to turn the heckling in the direction he wanted, which was toward a vigorous interest in the church, in prayer, and especially in social reform. His listeners were far more interested in world peace than most American gatherings are, and some of the printed questions and answers had to do with the "Summit" meetings in Geneva.

THE BILLY GRAHAM revival came in for constructive criticism from both speaker and hecklers. There is a keen interest in his meetings and program in places where one would not expect to find it, including middle-class businessmen who a few years ago might have seen little value outside the established church. Dr. Soper and some of his hearers challenged Dr. Graham's supporters to name one social issue to which the revival had brought the Christian conscience to bear. No takers.

Dr. Soper is a prodigious worker and has developed two main outlets for his message, his church services (Sunday morning and evening and through the week) and also his hour and a half long soap-box pulpit at Hyde Park. The worship of his congregation is strongly liturgical.

BILL GRAHAM is the subject of discussion in Scotland as well as in England. The Scots have an evangelistic movement of their own called "Tell Scotland," and have welcomed him as a factor in it. They are amazed that his supporters have spent 17,000 pounds on advertising, partly on large posters in every railroad station. Even though four-fifths of his audiences have been church members, yet the remaining fifth make up a huge number.

Another notable change in British attitudes since two years ago seems to be a look of relief that Britain is far on the way toward solving her financial problems. Faces of people you meet on the street are less grim and worried. People have more money to spend. Hotel rates are up 30 percent, and yet better hotels are crowded. The mild inflation means that people are selling to the domestic market instead of exporting, though Britain must export or die. So the keen mind of the chancellor of exchequer, R. A. Butler, has devised strong caution in bank loans, government economies, retarding of expensive public projects, reducing of installment buying. Many British people wonder at our country's recent reversal of President Eisenhower's policy to welcome imports in return for exports.

THE GREAT BRITISH institution, "Bank Holiday," comes next Monday and has some of the points of resemblance to a pilgrimage to London. The proper thing for a businessman to do is to bring his wife to the capital for a week of theater-going and excursions. We talked with a couple from the Midlands. The husband is up to the ears in the government's program for the medical use of atomic energy. Another couple were from their textile factory in Lancashire. Britain is far from being out of the woods but has made tremendous progress, and has experienced a small boom.

(GENEVA) Geneva is all excitement this week about the "Summit" meetings. A crowd waited yesterday to see the four big shots arrive for their four o'clock meeting. They greeted President Eisenhower with cheers as he leaned out of his open car and waved to the on-lookers. There is no doubt of his popularity, or of their distress at the new duties on clocks and watches. After 10 years of cold war, people now can say, "Here they rode in open cars."

GENEVA IS THE administrative center of much of the relief work of the world. Philanthropic societies to the number of 70 have offices here, notably the World Council of Churches. Most of the strong denominations have done relief work in cooperation with it, including the recent "Save Our Surplus" project by which the U.S.A. government will free food for distressed peoples if the churches will pay the freight. Estimates are that $1 given for this purpose frees $20 worth of food.

The great present undertaking is the resettlement of refugees or displaced persons, vocational guidance and training for them, and their employment. Australia, the Lebanese Republic, Canada and South America have received many thousands. Our own share in it seems to have been fumbled in Washington. But Mr. Dulles is keenly interested. One gets the impression of a new alertness and power in the churches as they face the terrific problems of reconstruction.

Resurrection is Sermon Topic of Rev. Hass

"The Importance of Christ's Resurrection" is the theme of the Rev. LeRoy Hass' sermon at the 9:15 a.m. worship service Sunday at Our Saviour's Lutheran church, held at the Palm Springs Women's Club, 314 South Cahuilla.

The sermon will stress the importance of the resurrection for faith in the forgiveness of sins and the hope of eternal life.

Sunday School and the Adult Bible Class will meet at 8:30 a.m.

Rev. Hass invited worshippers to see "This Is the Life" at 2 p.m., Sunday, on Channel 4.

Christian Science Sermon Sunday is 'God as Mind'

"That God is supreme in wisdom and gives this wisdom to those who truly ask it is the substance of the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" to be read in Christian Science services Sunday.

The Golden Text quotes Paul writing to the church at Corinth and saying, "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (I Cor. 2:16). In a letter to the Philippians he admonishes, "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus." (Phil. 2:5).

As a correlative to the latter quotation Mary Baker Eddy states in her text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures":

"Having one God, one Mind, unfolds the power that heals the sick, and fulfills these sayings of Scripture, 'I am the Lord that healeth thee,' and 'I have found a ransom.' When the divine prevents are understood, they unfold the foundation of fellowship, in which one mind is not at war with another, but all have one Spirit, God, one intelligent source, in accordance with the Scriptural command: 'Let this Mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus' (p. 276).

Two swimming classes are now under way at the pool, Monday through Friday, from 2 to 2:30 p.m., until August 19. One is for beginners and the other for intermediate groups.

Platt Attends National Meeting

Harvey Platt, county communications officer, is attending the annual conference of the Association of Police Communications Officers in New Orleans August 15 through 19. Platt is president of the state organization in the related field.

Daily Vacation Bible School Starts Monday

The Bible School will be conducted each day Monday through Friday from 9:30 to 12 until August 26. Uplifting stories, interesting craft classes, singing and play periods will mark each day's activities, all supervised by trained teachers in classes geared for each age group.

The classes are free and all supplies are furnished. All boys and girls through the age of fifteen are invited to attend and join in the inspiration and fun. For further information, or if transportation is needed, call 7522. The church is located on the corner of South Riverside drive, and Camino Real.

IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES may step in to block the upcoming marriage of Singer Billy Daniels and the blonde governess of his children. She's a Canadian citizen. If Lady Eden and Sir Anthony's personal physicians had their way, Mr. 10 Downing Street would take a long and festive holiday in the very near future. His vital international responsibilities have taken a heavy toll of the Prime Minister, and his health is not what it should be.

Dolores Del Rio's current stay in Hollywood—after so many years' absence—may feature some troupeau shopping. Intimates believe she's ready to marry Pierre Jaquillard, a hotel man in Mexico City. Marilyn Monroe is just what the Doctor Ordered for a young Westport, Conn., medico. They stage their dates at the Waldorf. Uncle Sam's scientists have perfected land mines that defy discovery by any mine detectors now in use.

Cinema insiders report that the next movie made in the extra-dimensional process will skip the travelogue routine and emphasize story instead of scenery. The Rock-n-roller, "Dance With Me Henry," now has three copyright infringement suits lodged against its publishers. Jeff Chandler looks years younger after a hair dye job.

Two of New York's best known hotel executives will be in on a luxurious gambling casino operation in Ciudad Trujillo. After all the "names" suggested to recreate Fanny Brice's famous Baby Snooks character, the powers-that-be have decided to cast Snooks as an honest to goodness child. They believe the public no longer is naive enough to be amused by adults dressed as kiddies. (And, you know, they're right!)

Even Hollywood's jaded flacks are astonished at the publicity attendant upon Clark Gable's marriage to Kay Spreckles. There haven't been so many requests for magazine and newspaper interviews with the Great Lover since the days of the famed slogan, "Gable's

"HOUSEWIFE REACHING FOR BOX OF SELF-RISING FLOUR"

If you ask Housewives today, they have it too easy. They have automatic machines to wash dishes, cook food, vacuum floors and mix their hen-rinses. They have precooked Hams, frozen meals, and Instant Everything. This leaves them with too much time to think, which makes them sullen and this is the reason that husbands don't like to go home (there must be some reason). I think someone should manufacture Labor-Lengthening Devices for Housewives. Brooms with only 3 whisks. Flour with rubber handles. Flour with millage in it to make it hard to blend. Ice boxes that can only be defrosted with a blow torch. Large boxes of Instant Dust. And a TV set that won't turn on.

THE NEW TYPIST, fresh from college, was so pretty that nobody had the heart to reprimand her for obvious shortcomings. They saw her frantically searching through the files one morning, and said consolingly, "There, there, Mary. If you've lost something again, it isn't serious enough to burst into tears about it."

"It certainly is," said Mary, choking back a sob. "This time it's my lunch."

Ethel Barrymore, confirmed baseball fan, sat next to an irate lady one day who kept hollering

"Kill the umpire! Murder the bum!" The great actress protested, "You're being most unfair. That poor man hasn't done anything."

"That's what you think," hooted the lady. "He's my husband."

Doctors, inured to being yanked out of bed at all hours of the night by inconsiderate patients, got a measure of satisfaction in Seattle some time ago. To raise money for a new hospital wing, they deliberately called all their patients between the hours of one and three A.M. The patients were groggy with sleep and extremely irritated—but they got the point. The necessary sum was raised in one night.

THIS SIDE OF THE SUN

By Phat

Was much interested in the yarn in the August 4 Sun about the 28th birthday of this newspaper. It was 28 years ago on August 5 that Carl Barkow and Harvey Johnson started The Desert Sun. Last Friday it was rather warmish in Palm Springs and, if the bad word is permitted, slightly muggy, too. It must have been that way on August 5, 1927. And it must have taken a lot of foresight plus nerve, to launch a newspaper here in August. But the best thing they did was in their choice of a name, The Desert Sun. There probably was a lot of it present when they picked that name. But it was one that really fit. For they figured that The Desert Sun would cover the Palm Springs area just as does the other desert sun. My brag used to be that in Palm Springs the sun came up nine times a week. Every morning and twice on Mondays and Thursdays. Come October, the sun is coming out every morning and The Sun every afternoon at 3.

BEING OFFICIALLY on vacation and spending much of the time in sight of the ocean, have been sort out of touch with the Village. And have to depend on the newspapers for what I know. There was one item which interested me greatly in the public prints a few days ago. The statement was made by a scientist that we don't know nothing yet, or to that effect. He predicted that the time is coming in this electronic age, when a man can step in a booth in Los Angeles, say, dehydrate himself, and two seconds later emerge from a booth in New York by reversing the Los Angeles process. That sounds wonderful. But, being inclined by nature, to look for the other side of every picture, I can see some drawbacks to the idea.

SUPPOSING you forgot something. Supposing you and your clothing did not synchronize. And your attire would be in a booth in San Francisco when you stepped out of the New York booth? That would start a riot on Broadway. And also consider, you might get a wrong number. And step out on Canal street, New Orleans. Instead of in Rockefeller Center? Or there might be bad static. And you emerge just a mixed-up kid? Thinking over all of these possibilities, I think that if I live that long and see this new idea activated, I'll still choose the lounge chair and its friendly administrations, to a booth.

WILLIAM CONLIN, P.A. (the initials, I believe, standing for Public Accountant, not male parenthood) is quibbling again. He objects to the use of the term "Middle West." He says that anything east of Denver is EAST. Well, now that as Einstein said is purely relative. On the Atlantic coast, they refer to any area west of "out west." And Bill wants to call everything the other side of the Rockies as "back east." So there should be a compromise. And since there is already a "middle east" somewhere in Europe or Asia, we're probably stuck with "Middle West." Anyway, am glad to note that Conley is still reading The Desert Sun, even while he was in that eastern part of the nation he says us old coots refer to as the middle west.

M. G. MEAD, more commonly known as "Whitey" is back from a few weeks sojourn in Yellowstone National Park. Returning with him were several trout which had formerly swished through the icy streams of that area. And many Villagers had fish for Friday due to his prowess. It was around 100 degrees and a bit humid when Mead distributed his fish. But he wasn't bothered. He remembered all of the mornings up there when he had to crack the ice in the water bucket to wash. Mead owns the Wayside Inn on South Palm Canyon drive and is looking forward to the widening program on that stretch of street. He believes it will be under way soon. And that narrow hazardous bridge is going to go.

HAVING BEEN AWAY, as above, I won't know until I get a chance to look around, whether you play post office in the Plaza or in the 800 block on North Palm Canyon drive. You know, the post office is always asking you to get the address on your correspondence accurate. But two weeks ago, just before heading westward and slightly south, I asked the post office employee the street number of the new office on North Palm Canyon. He didn't know. Comes a note from Jats DeVorzon. He's host at the Sater Room at the Crystal Bay, Nevada, Biltmore at Lake Tahoe. And again I want to commend the Valley Cleaners. Got back from a brief trip and not a match in the house. Then remembered a suit had just come back from them. And, there, in the pockets, as usual, were two folded and the day was saved.

AN USUAL ONE I read in "Willie," remonstrated the

SHEPHERDS OF THE HILLS

DR. PEALE

Confident Living

One of the most remarkable people I have ever met was an aged Negro woman. She lived in Florida and her grandson, knowing that I was spending a short vacation there, asked me to go to see her.

He wrote me that he thought of her as "an angel on two feet." "She has never had much money," he said, "but her laugh is like music." And he told me about all the children she had put through school, including himself.

I went out to her place, a humble little house at the edge of town on a dirt road. But there was no one home. I was just about to leave when I saw a woman coming down the road with a pack on her back. She had a rolling walk, almost like a sailor's. And she sang as she walked.

When she came up in front of the house, I asked if she were the woman for whom I was looking. "Why, yes, honey," she answered with a captivating smile. "What can I do for you?"

"I just came over to see you," I said.

"Why, isn't that nice of you? What did you come to see me for?"

"Well," I answered, "your grandson wrote me and said that you are an angel on two feet, and I wanted to see an angel on two feet."

She laughed. "I'm no angel, and that boy shouldn't say such things about his old grandma."

"He said you had a laugh like music," I told her, "and he was right about that."

She asked me in and showed me pictures of all the children she had helped. Then she told me I could hear her saying: "Now honey, don't you worry. Don't you worry. I'll come over there this afternoon and I'll prop you up. Just remember, I'll prop you up."

When she had hung up, I asked, "Who is this you're going to prop up?"

"Oh," she answered, "that's a poor little old rich white woman and she's having an awful time; at least she thinks she is. So I'm going over this afternoon to her house and prop her up."

I liked that—"prop her up." Don't we all need "propping up" now and then?

As we continued to talk, it seemed to me that this woman was one of the most radiant, happy and completely cheerful individuals I had ever met. Finally I asked: "How did you find this joy and happiness?"

"Why, landsakes, honey," she replied, "I just have God in my heart." That seemed a rather adequate answer, and I went away happy wit myself.

I can see her yet, standing there on that faded porch, the shabbiness of her surroundings made beautiful by the radiance on her face.

What she had was beyond philosophy, beyond the usual measurements of success. It was the most basic of all ideas teacher. "You shouldn't talk to your playmate like that. Had you ever thought of heaping coals of fire on his head?"

"No, ma'am. I hadn't," said Willie. "But it is a peach of an idea."

Congressional Report

By Representative John Phillips

When Mrs. Phillips and I moved out, almost to the end of Massachusetts avenue, but still in the District of Columbia, the little house was brand new and the neighboring lots, for a distance of half a city block, were still wooded. The land had to be filled, to the height of the cellar. So it was all new, without planting, and we saw many varieties of birds.

Since we can't have Scottish terriers, with the life we lead, the birds had to do, and it has been an interesting experience. I think the one that attracted our attention first was a Cardinal, with no tail feathers; sort of a Manx-Cardinal. He was hatched in the adjoining yard and for no good reason at all, we named him "Hubert."

"I WOULDN'T SAY he came when we called him, but I do aver that when I put out sunflower seeds and then called loudly, 'OK, Hubert,' it would be only a few moments before he was perched on the edge of the garage roof, with his head cocked on one side, 'casing the joint,' as I believe the expression should be.

Seriously, if I were busy and forgot the seeds, I would soon hear a persistent 'cheep, cheep, cheep,' from the garage roof and there was Hubert, protesting the oversight. He came back for two seasons and then was seen no more. He flew like a plane without tail construction, but he had managed to figure a compensating balance and only an increased wave motion, in flight, indicated his lack of tail feathers.

THE CARDINALS are of course the most beautiful, but the Blue Jays are the most colorful. The Cardinals can shuck sunflower seeds in their beaks and spit out the hulls, like old men chewing tobacco on the pier at Long Beach, but the Jays take the seeds in their claws, hold them on the edge of the wooden feeder and then "wang, wang, wang" them with their beaks, until you think they will wake the dead. They sound like Woodpeckers, of which we have seen none yet, and we probably have not gained in popularity with the neighbors, as the Jays, like some people, get up for an early breakfast.

Big as he is, the Jay more than meets his match in the tiny Wren, especially when Jenny has a family nearby. If she doesn't actually divebomb him, with the speed and accuracy of a jet plane, she follows him around, sitting a few feet away and scolding until you'd think she'd wear out her vocal cords. The Jay invariably retreats. Wrens and the Chickadees are about the same size and want a hole in the nest about 1 inch in diameter.

ONE OF THE MOST amusing expressed in the Bible simply as "God is love." This woman truly loved people because she had God in her heart.

And how does one get God in his heart? It is very simple. First, develop love in your heart and then you will have God in your heart. And the only way you can have love in your heart is to cast out hate and prejudices and grudges. The greatest of all formulas of joy is the Biblical precept, "Love one another."

SHOW WINDOW OF THE PAST — Known as the Southern Highlands, the region which follows the Blue Ridge Mountains from the Virginias to Georgia has always been noted for the skilled craftsmanship of its pioneers. Before the coming of modern highways these forest-clad mountains depended largely upon the ingenuity of the individual and the skill of his hands. Cabins, barns and farm implements were hand-hewn and hand-made, as were the kitchen utensils, clothing, furniture and almost everything the pioneer and his family needed. Because many of these mountaineers were so isolated their handicraft continued long after manufactured goods had reached most of the sections of the country.

It was only after modern engineering found ways, literally, to move mountains that these pioneer folk began to come out of their isolation and, with them, emerged the every-day, commonplace skills they had used over and over and passed on from one generation to the next while the rest of the country was changing over to modern manufacturing methods. Nevertheless, their numbers were small and the hand-made products which they had produced, largely for their own use, became scarcer and scarcer. A few set up small shops largely in their homes where hand-made furniture, hand-woven materials and pottery were produced for sale. It soon became clear that the mountain people and their increasing number of visitors from all parts of the country had something real and worthwhile to exchange. This led in 1930 to the establishment of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild which seeks to preserve the tradition of these people and encourage the preservation of their crafts.

I attended the extremely interesting annual Craftsman's Fair recently which was held in Asheville, North Carolina. On this occasion each year craftsmen from all over the Southern mountains gather in Asheville's auditorium to display their products and demonstrate their fascinating skills which have been handed down for generations. Craftsman set up their looms, benches and wheels and work in full view of the public while their products are displayed and sold. I watched a pottery maker throw some nearby clay on his foot propelled stone wheel, grasp it with wet hands and mould a graceful pitcher a foot high in a matter of minutes. Asked how long it took him to master this art, he said that he had been working at it for 25 years and was still learning.

Widely scattered through this Southern Highlands region which comprises parts of Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia are many schools where these handicrafts are being taught and quite a few shops where the products are manufactured in considerable quantities for sale. The integrity and pride of workmanship that first marked mountain handicrafts has been preserved although as new blood and new ideas have been added, merchandising of the products has become much more profitable for their makers. The products have a charm all their own and are usually functional and sturdy. Outstanding is their hand-wrought furniture, braided wool and cotton rugs, weaving done on heavy wooden looms with exactly the same method for five generations, and hand-made wooden dolls each with a personality of its own. The Bybee Pottery in Madison county, Kentucky, for example has been in the Cornelson family for over 100 years and is still a family operation. They work in a building which has been in existence since 1845. It is the oldest existing pottery plant west of the Alleghenies. The Blenko Glass company is the only manufacturer in this country of antique stained glass which is produced by a process used in the eleventh century. Every step in Blenko's glass blowing process is dependent upon the eye and hand of the craftsman.

Handicrafts now play a major part in the economic and cultural life of these modern mountaineers. American homes have benefited in beauty, harmony and taste as traditional themes have been adapted or maintained. These interesting and friendly craftsmen and their products add much to the interest of the streams of visitors who come to the Southern Highlands every Summer. If you ever plan a trip through this region don't fail to stop in and see some of these handicraft shops. You will find them fascinating.

Ohrts to Attend Bicycle Races at Rome, Italy

Hans Ohrt, who annually cycles to the Village from Los Angeles, and Mrs. Ohrt left Sunday for their eighth annual trip overseas where he will be one of the officials at the World Championship Bicycle Races at Rome.

Ohrt, of Beverly Hills, will be the lone United States official at the races.

They will leave via the S.A.S. Polar Route for Copenhagen, and then fly on to Stuttgart to take delivery of a Mercedes automobile. The Ohrts will motor through Germany, Liechtenstein, Switzerland, en route to Rome. After the races in Rome and Milan the last three days in August and the first three in September, they will return by way of France, sailing aboard the Ile de France on September 16.

A motor tour home via Florida is planned.

THOUSAND PALMS

VACATIONISTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cree returned early from a whirlwind two-week motor trip to New York and New Jersey where they visited briefly with Mr. Cree's family. Enroute home they visited in Iowa with relatives of Mrs. Cree—her first trip "home" since she moved with her parents to California in 1937. There they also picked up their nine-year-old daughter, Patty Ann, and Mrs. Cree's mother of Los Angeles, who had been visiting in Iowa for the month previous. The trip was too fast for too much real pleasure, they report, but other more important things happening in the home community made them cut short their visits and "fly low" to get back.

The Cree's are the new owners of the El Descanso Motel in Shangri-La Palms, having purchased the motel from the Doctors Nelson of Santa Ana who had built it several years ago. When they moved in last May from Los Angeles, they also purchased the Hy Paul house located on Ramon road in front of the Motel, where they reside, and other property in Shangri-La Palms.

NEW RESIDENTS, ALSO

Mrs. Emma Hawkes and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Hawkes recently moved into the Shangri-La Palms community from Hollywood. They are living in the El Descanso Motel until their new home is completed for them on Calle Jessica in Shangri-La Palms.

Mrs. Hawkes now claims the distinction of being the community's eldest resident—all of 88 years young. An artist, only a few years ago an exhibit of her water-colors and hand-painted china was held in the Los Angeles area. Miss Hawkes is an accomplished piano accompanist, having followed that profession for a number of years in Hollywood and having accompanied many leading vocalists and instrumentalists. When settled in their new home, she plans to teach piano in this community.

Last summer the Hawkes enjoyed a trip to Mrs. Hawkes' native London, England, where she visited a sister she hadn't seen for 52 years. Miss Hawkes is a native of Canada. They are the ones incidentally, to be seen driving all around in their little electric car.

IN THE PET DEPARTMENT

Had a real "sneak preview" the other evening of a brand new star at Old Fort Oliver in Thousand Palms, a true comedian with all the earmarks of success—might even give one Harry Oliver competition! Oliver, Desert Rat Commander of the Fort, said he hasn't decided yet whether the new comedian's name will be Domino, Dice or Pagliacci, because of his coat of white with black dots. It has been said that Oliver can predict the coming of styles for women because he gets sneak previews of women's fashions—or at least he knows what cats are going to wear, anyway. Running true to form, his "Sin II" blessed the world the other week with four little sinners, among them the new star; each with a coat of a different color, and all in good taste.

Philip Singler of Shangri-La Palms (and father and mother, Jack and Peggy Singler, too) is thoroughly enjoying his new two-month-old reddish-brown coated puppy name of "Panchito Sanchez Singler." He acquired the puppy to take the place of their dog "Lonesome" who was run over and killed about three months ago.

Panchito's brother, "Teddy" is making his home with and entertaining the three Dyer children, who live with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hulbert in Shangri-La Palms.

And two blonde sisters of the same litter have found their way to the Nelson home, also in Shangri-La Palms. (It took two of them to try to fill the place left vacant when the Nelsons' constant pet companion, little black "Peggy" was accidentally killed by a passing truck last month). These pups are now known as "Maja and Kaja." After all, they're blondes, so why shouldn't they have Swedish names?

Joanne Papp's new pet companion is a kitten named "Fluffy," which, interestingly enough, came from the same home as did the four new puppies in the community—from "Helms Man" Barton's home near Palm Springs. Quite a delegation of new pets in Shangri-La Palms all at once. Joanne and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Papp are also resident-homeowners of that development.)

NOTES AT RANDOM

It is reported that Benjamin Wollman is recovering rapidly from surgery which he underwent on August 1 at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles. He and Mrs. Wollman are expected to return soon to their Shangri-La Palms home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Friske of Shangri-La Palms are sporting a new automobile these days. Is it ever red?—and cream. A real beauty!

The other weekend the immediate in-laws descended upon the newlywed Donald E. Macpherson, Jr., at their home in Palmdale—the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Lennie of Shangri-La Palms; Mr. and Mrs. D. F. MacPherson, Sr., of Indio, parents of the company's retired personnel in the groom.

HISTORIC PALM trees, probably the first planted here when development of the Village began, are being moved from their site at the northwest corner of Indian avenue and Tahquitz drive to the new Cameron Center south of Tahquitz Creek on Palm Canyon drive. Above, removal of the trees from the Lieblich site to their new home, is shown. The trees, reported to have been planted originally by Dr. Harry L. Coffman, have long been landmarks of the downtown area of Palm Springs.

The other Sunday Mrs. Elva Woodside of Shangri-La Palms attended the Southern Pacific Railroad's picnic at Long Beach, held annually in honor of the service as a telegrapher at Ni-land some two or three years ago.

LIBRARY NOTES

MAN'S NOBLEST QUARRY

Frances Frost's poem STORM LULLABY contains these lines: Rocked in the salty-colored gale, in rising emerald hollowed black, tossed on the terrible white crests, the great whale rolls upon his back.

This spout, caused by the condensation of whale's breath in colder-than-body temperature, is also the signal that heralds his death. Comes the age old cry, "Thar she blows!" from the crew's nest of a whaler and the hunt is on. Whaling today is big business, internationally controlled. Despite its technological advance over the ancient chase for whalebone and ambergris, the substance of corset stays and Melville's eternal classic perfume, all who write about whaling pay tribute to Herman Moby Dick.

Newly published in this country and now available at the Welwood Murray Memorial Library is The Great Story of Whales by Georges Blond. This book, with its wide reportorial scope, covers the scientific data known about these giant mammals, the history of their contact with man from the time of Biblical Jonah, and the industry itself from the era of the cachalot to the hunting of blue whale in Antarctic waters.

Here is the story of the fight and hunter of the species, a polygamist, as well as the monogamous blue whale and the hideous and ridiculous humpback. Here, too, Nelson Haley, a daring young man who left family and home to become a harpooner aboard the vessel "Charles Morgan" in the days when New Bedford was the center of the whaling industry. And finally the latest development: a floating factory with its fleet of catchers.

Mr. Blond's book is full of almost unbelievable information: whales are the largest animals that exist or have ever existed in this world, but octopus and cuttlefish are capable of suffocating this creature hundreds of times their size; a baby blue whale gains ten pounds an hour; sperm whales, despite the fact that they are mammals and breathe like human beings, dive 2500 feet or more in search of food.

Of Whales and Men by R. B. Robertson is concerned with highly organized and gigantic process involved in the floating whaler, and especially with the men who do the job. Robertson, a psychiatrist, was attached to one of these factories as senior medical officer during the 1950-51 whaling season and it is apparent from the beginning that he was fascinated by today's counterparts of Melville's Queequeg, Bulkington and the crew of the Pequod.

Salton Sea Drops 2 of Foot in July

Imperial Irrigation District in its monthly report on the Salton Sea level, reported a two-tenths of a foot drop in July to a reading of 234.5 feet. The decrease was caused by a high summer evaporation rate, it was explained. The sea is three-tenths of a foot higher than it was at the end of July in 1954.

He delves into the characters of such diverse and quixotic personalities as Mansell, production officer; Mark, junior chief officer, only holder of a British Master's Certificate and therefore by law the captain of the expedition; the Gaunt Stranger, Robertson's name for the chief flier, a man visible only while performing his intricate and dangerous duties atop the whale.

This book contains a report on one of the most magnificent adventures in the annals of man, the story of Ernest Shackleton, the almost forgotten explorer who in 1915 made his way across the remote and forbidding wastes of South Georgia. It is this story, told here in all its grim glory, that inspired T. S. Elliot's lines in The Waste Land:

Who is the third who walks always beside you? When I count there are only you and I together But when I look ahead up the white road There is always another one walking beside you Gliding wrapt in a brown mantle, hooded . . .
